NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—The results of the official vote for candidates on the state ticket at the late election disclose a contrary picture of figures which were reported by the student election statistics. Last year 92 cases of tularemia were reported to the State Department of Health. Rabbits frozen for a period of four weeks are found to be non-infective. Hunters, housewives and others who handle rabbits never put their unprotected hands inside a wild rabbit but should always wear gloves when handling them. The rabbit should be thoroughly cooked, so well cooked that there is no red meat, nor any red juice, near the bone. At least 1 per cent of all wild rabbits are infected.

Mr. L. W. Reese, of the State Department of Education, announces that through the courtesy of the Cincinnati public schools, Thanksgiving program of unusual interest and merit has been arranged for the Ohio School of the Air. ## SCHOOL NEWS

Cafeteria Supper
It is impossible to publish this week an itemized statement of the receipts and expenditures of the cafeteria supper, since all bills have not yet been received. A complete report will appear in next week's issue.

Chapel
The Commercial Department had charge of Chapel Monday morning. Eleanor Coulter announced the program and Jane West read the Scripture. A series of stories telling of the success of different people in the Commercial field, was read by several members of the department. A playlet, "Not to the Swift," portraying the work of stenographers, was well given. Chapel was concluded after the usual announcements.

"Byrd at the South Pole"
Wednesday morning, pupils from the High School are privileged to go to Xenia to see at the Bijou Theater the motion picture "Byrd at the South Pole." This picture is being given under the auspices of the County Superintendent, H. C. Aultman.

Every Pupil Tests
Tuesday, December 2, has been set aside for the giving of the first statewide Every Pupil Test in the following subjects: Latin I and II, American History (7th, 8th, 12th grades), Algebra I, English (Grades 8 to 12), Physics, Chemistry, General Science, and Arithmetic. The purpose for this testing is two-fold: for comparison with other schools in the state and for preparation for the scholarship contest held in the spring.

Hot Lunches
The school cafeteria will open Wednesday, December 3rd. This year meal tickets of $1.10 value will be sold for $1.00. This will avoid the handling of small change for both the child and cashier. Lunches may be purchased without a meal ticket, but must be paid for by the day.

The following menu will be served during the week of December 3-5:
Wednesday—Corn Chowder, Minced Ham Sandwiches, Cottage Cheese Salad, Milk or Cocoa.
Thursday—Scalloped Macaroni and Salmon, Pimento Cheese Sandwiches, Brown Betty, Milk or Cocoa.
Friday—Vegetable Soup, Meat Loaf Sandwiches with Gravy, Ice Cream, Milk or Cocoa.

Football Season Resumes
At Coach Orr's first call for football men, about twenty-five to thirty answered, and among them were only four letter-men. There were good prospects for a backfield, yet four horsemen, however good, need seven mules, and Cedarville's seven mules averaged 140 pounds each or less. Some of these missed the delightful experience of being a "scrub" for a year. There were about twenty-two men who faithfully reported for practice during the entire season. The following are the members of the team and those who played several times.

Linebackers
Center: Coulter, Fox, Richards; Guard: Smith, Fox, Hart, Ferryman; Tackle: Tindall, Flatter; End: Rife, Printz, Grube.
Backfield—Quarterback: Buckner; Fullback: Peterson, kicker; Halfback: Harris, Ferguson.
Also those who saw little service this year, but reported faithfully for practice, and will have opportunities next year are: Gotton, Talbert, R. Peterson, Willis, Reed, H. Ferguson, Wisecup, Northrup.

Date	Opp.	Team	C.H.S.	Opp.
Sept. 26	College Reserves	14	0
Oct. 3	Kingscreek	26	0
Oct. 9	Lanier	9	7
Oct. 17	Clarksburg	25	0
Oct. 24	Osborn	21	0
Oct. 30	Greenfield	0	26
Nov. 7	O.S.S.O. Home	0	7
Nov. 14	Mt. Sterling	13	6

Total points scored 117 46
As the above results show, our team was successful in winning six out of eight games during this season. We feel that the boys and coach are to be congratulated on this fine record.

Turkey Farm Now Center of Attraction

Mr. J. B. Rife, who has specialized in raising turkeys for the market the past few years, has a flock of about 1,000 choice birds to select from this season. The quality this year is unusually fine and to make the holiday delicacy more attractive the price is much lower than in former years.

THANKSGIVING VACATION

The public schools will have the usual two day vacation for Thanksgiving, there being no school Friday. College closed Wednesday noon and opens again Monday morning. Many of the students returned home for the vacation.

Preparing for the Big Offensive

Petitions Circulated for Auto Driver's License

The Ohio State Automobile Association has prepared petitions seeking signatures for two laws to initiate legislation on a driver's license law and a safety responsibility law for motor car owners.

The object of the two laws is to force the reckless driver from the highways. The owner of a car must establish his financial responsibility to meet damage claims before getting a license.

Each member of the family that drives a car must have a license and no one under sixteen years of age can get a license. Each license will cost fifty cents each year a car is operated. One half of the fee will go to the state and the other half for a license bureau in each county, the half returned to the county to meet this expense. As there are about 8,000 automobiles in the county, motor car owners alone must put up $4,000 of which $2,000 would go to the bureau. Figuring an average of two drivers for each car, the bureau would have $4,000 upon which to operate.

During the legislature two years ago attempt was made to pass a driver's license law but the bill was defeated in the rural members refused to vote for it. The present initiated bill was drawn by a former member of the legislature from Cincinnati.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Barber, Friday p. m., November 21. There were eighteen members present. Five new members were added to our roll and six honorary members. Miss Louise Henderson reported that the pledge cards had been given to the various Sunday schools and a large number in each school had been signed. Mrs. C. W. Steele gave a report of the county executive which she attended in October. Rev. Hutchinson of the M. E. church was the introducer and gave a very interesting and helpful address on "What will we do now?"

It was decided to send a delegation for the cot in the tramps house and a committee was appointed for that purpose. This phase of the work comes under the head of the Flower mission work. A social hour was enjoyed and the hostess served light refreshments.

WILL HAVE CANNING FACTORY

The building in South Charleston long used as a creamery which has been vacant for some time, has been sold to H. G. Bates, Wilmington and C. E. Bates, Blanchester, father and son, to be used as a canning factory.

Approximately 25 million of dozens of eggs are exported by the United States each year. Imports of eggs not in the shell amount to approximately 25 millions of pounds.

COLLEGE NOTES

Cedarville College closed Wednesday noon, November 26, for Thanksgiving recess. It will resume work Monday, December 1, at eight o'clock in the morning. Most of the students will return to their homes for the vacation.

Rev. Dr. G. H. Schmidt, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who is General Secretary of the Liebenzeller Mission and who is the father of Waldemar Schmidt, a student in the college, led the devotion in chapel Monday and gave a very interesting talk to the students.

On Wednesday the W. C. T. U. and Y. W. C. A. in joint meeting, held the annual Thanksgiving service of the college. Eloise McLaughlin had charge of the service. The program included reading the scripture; Professor A. J. Hostetler offered the invocation. Ralph Moorman, of Jamestown, gave a talk on the origin of Thanksgiving in America; Martha Lackey, of Jamestown, gave a talk on "Thanksgiving, An Ancient Custom." Viola Harbaugh of Tippecanoe City gave a reading entitled "Thanksgiving is Here." Waldemar Schmidt read a number of poems in connection with the poet's idea of Thanksgiving Day. Martha Waddle and Lenora Skinnell sang a duet of two numbers: "Thanksgiving Song" and "Egyptian Song." Mrs. E. A. Allen gave a most interesting and inspirational talk along the lines of boosting Cedarville College and thankfulness for the blessings we have.

Next Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. Carl White, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Yellow Springs, will give a talk to the students and faculty in chapel. All are cordially invited.

On Wednesday, December 10, Prof. R. Rudolf Broda, head of the Social Science Department of Antioch College, will give an address to the faculty and students and all other people in the village and community will be present to welcome Prof. Broda and hear his lecture.

The Y. W. C. A., following their annual custom, are to distribute on Wednesday afternoon well-filled baskets and other gifts to people of Cedarville and community. Let us remember all who are in need and give as God has graciously bestowed upon us.

During this week and next the students in the Normal Department have been taking final examinations under the direction of Prof. Hostetler for the year.

The thanks of the college are due to Dean Steele and Mrs. Allen and the students who participated in the splendid Thanksgiving program Wednesday morning.

Miss Lillian A. Daines, of Cedarville College, is studying at the School of Library Science of Western Reserve University this year. She was graduated from Cedarville College in 1922, and is taking the training course for high school library service. The School of Library Science is strictly a graduate school. This course is popular among students. Western Reserve is an excellent school. Several girls in Cedarville College now are taking the course which will fit them to enter schools of library science. We desire to thank all of our friends, who, so far, have subscribed or sent their checks to the Midwestern and Expansion Fund of Cedarville College. We still have $6000 of the $15,000 to raise before May 15, 1931. Will you help?

Dr. Hilton Ira Jones On Lecture Course

Those who attended the first number of the lecture course were fully repaid with the entertainment provided by the Ramos Mexican orchestra. Many season ticket holders expressed themselves as having received their money's worth in that one number. The committee in charge promised the public that three outstanding attractions had been secured for this season and that promise has been made good this far.

The second number will be Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, the noted scientific lecturer. His title may at first leave the impression that his subject will be something that you cannot understand but this is not true. His lecture with demonstrations form a fascinating story that will appeal to old and young. It is something that will interest everyone and every boy and girl should have the opportunity of this educational treat.

The lecture will be on Wednesday, December 3rd instead of the second as announced some time ago. Tickets will be on sale at Richard's Drug Store.

It was an educational treat for the school children.

A vacancy in the superintendency of the Eaton schools was caused by the death of the former superintendent.

P. H. Creswell Has Chance at Marshal

A dispatch from Washington, D. C., last Friday, indicates that County Auditor P. H. Creswell, is the outstanding candidate for U. S. Marshal in the Southern Ohio District. From the first Mr. Creswell has been considered the strongest candidate due to his pre-primary work in the Hoover campaign. In as much as the Seventh District was in the control of the Willis politicians it was a hard fight to keep Hoover delegates before the people.

The appointment would have been made months ago but was held up by Senator McCullough, who was bidding for the support of the Cincinnati politicians. Fred Baier, Cincinnati was the organization candidate, but could not meet the requirements. With McCullough out of the Senate and the Cincinnati politicians ousted from political births in mid winter as the result of the success of the Citizens ticket in that county, the U. S. Marshalship will go to who ever Senator Fess recommends.

Reduced Force Back For Highway Work

While the entire force on Ohio highways was laid off last week a new schedule went into effect this week. Only four men will be out on a four-day schedule. It was reported the department found it necessary to reduce owing to a shortage in funds. As a result the dragging and spreading of gravel on the Clinton and Springfield pike has been renewed. The road was given a coat of oil previous to election but it soon was in as bad condition as ever.

Final Game Goes To Morehead Normal

Cedarville College football team closed the season Saturday when it took a 7 to 0 defeat by Morehead Normal School, Morehead, Ky., on the latter's gridiron. On three different occasions Morehead crossed Cedarville's ten-yard line but Bost's squad were able to hold the line and took the ball on downs. Cedarville failed to get closer than Morehead's thirty-eight yard line.

First Real Winter Settles Upon Us

While the west has been having snow storms and extreme cold weather Ohio has continued warm and dry until Monday when snow began to fall and continued Tuesday with colder weather.

Farmers continue to suffer for water for live stock and in some cases water for domestic use. It has been hoped we would have sufficient rains to reach the wells and fill the streams before extreme cold weather set in.

Work Continues On Water Softening Plant

The contractors are working each day on the new water softening plant on the site of the municipal waterworks. From reports at hand it will take about three weeks to complete the work before the plant can be placed in operation.

IT WAS AN UNUSUAL THANKSGIVING DAY

Thursday as a day of Thanksgiving was no doubt a different one than what thousands of people in this country, and for that matter the entire world, had ever experienced. Such days during the past twenty-five years have had a truer meaning for giving thanks yet there is no one but what has had something to be thankful for regardless of what has befallen them the past year. In this hour of darkness for many we might go back to the days of our Pilgrim Fathers who knew nothing but trouble and hardship and reverses yet they kept their courage and their faith in the future.

While the nation is undergoing an economic change there are many things we must be thankful for. From a dollar and cent standpoint we have not enjoyed the success of former years but as a nation we have so much more for our people than do many countries. Advantages of freedom in religious worship, schooling and the right to have a part in our government are much more than many people abroad have today. Protection of life as well as property, with political freedom makes bondage impossible. In the period of Thanksgiving we find countless thousands making contribution for the unfortunate in almost every state. American citizens cannot be unmindful of her people as a whole whether they have been distressed by an unfortunate economic condition or from uncontrollable disaster.

CRABBE TURNS FROM PROHIBITION—AS IT IS

The dry forces of Ohio were probably more or less shocked Saturday last when the statement of C. C. Crabbe, former dry attorney general, and author of the famous Crabbe prohibition act that bears his name and is yet in force, had backed away from prohibition as it is and stood for modification. The tenor of his statement does not indicate he has forsaken the prohibition cause altogether, but he desires to see some other method of control adopted in view of the fact the public is ignoring the present law.

Having been prominent in state politics and looked upon as one of the outstanding dry leaders, Crabbe's statement is but a reflection of the attitude politicians are taking. There can be no denial of the fact that Republican leaders in the state and nation are coming more and more into the open for modification and this promises to be the dominant issue in the next election. It is certain the Democrats will demand repeal. The recent election with Republicans losing the major places convinces the leaders the party must adopt the modification plan to hold the enormous vote in the populated cities.

From the national standpoint the party is becoming divided on the same issue yet some outstanding leaders like Senator Fess, President Hoover, Vice President Curtis and others are not convinced it is time to give in to the demand of the wets Congress will not likely attempt making any changes in the Volstead law one way or the other.

That the public has become disinterested in the cause of prohibition must be admitted and is admitted by statements of dry leaders that the forces must be rebuilt and strengthened to uphold public sentiment. A campaign of education has been proposed in many quarters and will have the support of numerous organizations.

Some are demanding that Congress provide many more millions of dollars for more enforcement and the educational campaign. This will not likely appeal to the general public that must pay the bill, especially the business interests that pay most of the cost of the federal government.

As we see it the public has become soured on much of the dry propaganda that has been circulated the past few years. Dry leaders drawing princely salaries have always sketched fanciful pictures of the success of the cause when it had not been half the success as represented. Had there been more admission that prohibition was not the success hoped and the public urged at that time to take a firmer stand, we feel there would have been more accomplished for the future and the present situation probably avoided. With politicians taking the lead for modification and an indifferent public the dry forces will find there is yet much work to be done to save prohibition.

SETUP FOR ANOTHER POLITICAL MACHINE

The announcement that petitions would be circulated for an initiated bill for a motor driver's license law with a companion law compelling financial responsibility for drivers will not be relished by most motor car owners when they learn all the provisions of the proposed bills.

The Herald at no time has ever opposed a driver's license law and takes no position at this time to oppose that one provision unless other objectionable features are tied to it. If these objections cannot be removed then the whole thing should go into discard until such time as the merits of a license law can be considered alone.

The proposed bill will require each and every member of a family that drives a car must have a license. This license is to be secured each year and each license will cost the driver and owner of the car fifty cents each. Even with such fees proposed the Herald has no objection.

But analysis of the bill reveals that the funds collected by this license law, which if passed will take more than a million dollars from the pockets of the drivers, not one cent will go for public use to the taxing districts from which it is collected. As we learn one half will go to the state and the other half go towards a bureau; board or a license commissioner in each county. In other words twenty-five cents of each fee goes into the pockets of another set of public officials to be appointed. And the motorist must stand another additional tax, not one cent of which will go for repair of streets.

The proposed bill is the product of a Cincinnati politician and the motorists are to be milked to erect another political machine in Ohio. Those sponsoring this bill did not even keep in mind the result of the recent election in Ohio, which was a rebuke to that type of government. The rural sections of Ohio have been at the mercy of the city politicians and every dollar that can be drawn from the rural sections is being collected and spent under direction of a political dynasty in Columbus. The outgoing "Business Administration" can be traced directly to rural counties, many of which had never before left their political moorings of long standing.

The proposed license bill will go before the legislature where a similar bill was defeated two years ago. This time if it is defeated it will go to a referendum vote next fall. It is not even necessary to predict what will happen to the bill once motor car owners have a chance at it.

The motorist has had much inflicted upon himself or herself the past few years that has put millions of dollars in the hands of the politicians to spend. Road machinery interests have used the innocent farmer to pull fat chestnuts from the fire in the way of big business but the outstanding innocent farmer that was used as the legislative vehicle to make this possible, suffered a terrible drubbing on November 4th when his neighbor farmers in his district decided to keep him on the farm and trust legislative matters to others. It is hinted the farmer by erecting a mansion caused suspicion among his neighbors who knew profits from the farm at no time in recent years warranted such an expenditure.

The recent election and present economic situation would hardly convince anyone that another political machine should be proposed.

Learn, if it can give you satisfaction, that conditions in Wall Street are "technically" much better. That won't give satisfaction to little people that were gambling gaily a year ago. When Wall Street gets "technically" better it means that small accounts are wiped out, little gamblers are dead and buried financially and must save up for the next foolishness.

Stocks are in "strong hands," which means that those that put them out at a high price have bought them back at a low price.

Call money lends at 1 per cent, 90 day money lends at 2 per cent. Everything is charming "technically," which ought to be a lesson for little men not to gamble, but it will not be.

News that comes from Russia seems as topsy-turvy as though it came from "Alice in Wonderland."

American engineers are developing asbestos resources in Russia, adding another surprise concerning Russian resources generally.

United States engineers are operating an asbestos pit two miles wide in a place far off from Moscow and the other centers, that had 10,000 population a short time ago, now has 55,000 population, and within two years will yield twice as much as the world's total output of asbestos in 1928. More reason for worrying about "Russian dumping."

Mr. Thomas of the British labor cabinet says the world's trouble is the sudden end of great buying power.

Four hundred million people in China, 300,000,000 in India, 40,000,000 in Russia, half the buying population of the world, suddenly stopped buying.

Boycotting silver, which India and China use for money, plus civil war and rebellion, are responsible for part of the trouble.

And the United States' boycott of Russia is responsible for part.

This is an extraordinary world, in which too much of everything, too much wheat, coal, copper sugar and even too much money, mean disaster.

T. W. Lamont of Morgan and company, revives a story about Junius Morgan, father of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, grandfather of today's head of the firm.

When the late J. Morgan was very young, crossing the ocean with his father, the latter gave him this advice:

"Remember, my son, that any man who is a bear on the future of this country will go broke."

That is as true now as it was half a century ago, and citizens will do well to remember it.

Railroad men, including the greatest in the United States, representing 90 per cent of all the railroads, pledged themselves to avoid cutting wages or discharging men and to employ as many more men as possible. This they do in the face of decreased railroad earnings, an excellent example to other employers.

The farm board has held up the price of American wheat by spending a million dollars a day to buy grain and take it out of the market.

Wheat has been selling at Winnipeg and Liverpool as low as 18 cents below the American price.

This means that other wheat producing countries have been changing their wheat into money, and sending it where it will be eaten.

Regular airplane travel is planned between Chicago and New York in eight and a half hours or less. That interests railroad men.

Automobile travel also interests railroads.

Four young people in Buffalo decided to see the Yale-Princeton game at Princeton, N. J. They made the trip in one day in a small automobile. For gas and oil the cost was $4.10. Railroad tickets for the four, not including pullman, would cost $72.

Permitting railroads to increase their rates would not solve that problem.

When Mussolini encounters a problem he does something.

Italy faces a deficit of $36,450,000. Mussolini cuts all official salaries 12 per cent.

He cuts cabinet members at the top and all the way down, army and navy officers, school teachers, police clerks.

That would not be popular here, and it isn't necessary.

The Oxford dictionary is finished, with more than 414,825 words in it. You can get a copy of it for $1,500, but if you don't hurry you won't get any. Only a few copies are left and no more of the present expensive kind will be printed.

Thirteen hundred men and women have worked on that dictionary more than seventy years. And the average man gets along comfortably with 2,000 words, including, "Gee," "Well," and "Listen." Millions of peasants use fewer than 500 words.

Lesson for November 30

ZACCHAEUS THE PUBLICAN, A BUSINESS MAN CONVERTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 19:1-10. GOLDEN TEXT—For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man Who Thought Jesus Would Not Care. JUNIOR TOPIC—A Man Who Righted His Wrongs. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Religion Changes One's Life. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making Business Christian.

I. Jesus Passing Through Jericho (v. 1). Jericho is noted as the stronghold of the "Canaanites," which was miraculously delivered into the hands of Israel in response to their faith (Josh. 6), and also for the faith of Rahab which saved her from destruction with the city (Josh. 11:30, 31). It was thus noted as a city where faith and unbelief played against each other. It was fitting that Jesus should pass through Jericho. Faith and unbelief again were manifested. Two notorious sinners, Rahab and Zacchaeus, were saved at Jericho.

II. Zacchaeus Seeking Jesus (vv. 2-4). 1. His object (v. 3). He sought to see who Jesus was. Though perhaps prompted by curiosity, he eagerly sought Jesus.

2. His difficulties (vv. 2, 3). (1) His infamous business (v. 2). He was a tax collector for the Roman government. The very fact that a Jew held such an office under the hated Romans would make him extremely unpopular. Then, since he was rich, it was evident that he had practiced extortion in collecting the taxes. Many men and women have a hard time coming to Christ because of their questionable business relations.

(2) His shortness of stature (v. 3). He was too small to crowd his way through to Jesus, and being hated by the people they had thrust him aside.

3. His persistence (v. 4). He ran before the multitude and climbed up into a tree. What he lacked in stature he was determined should be made up by the height of the tree. Though Zacchaeus' legs were too short to enable him to see Jesus they were long enough to run past the crowd and enable him to climb the tree.

III. Jesus Finding Zacchaeus (vv. 5, 6). While Zacchaeus was trying to see Jesus, Jesus was looking for him. This is always the case. When desire is stirred up in a heart to see Jesus, Jesus is seeking that one. When Jesus saw him he commanded him to come down from the tree and declared his intention to go home with him. Zacchaeus got more than he expected. Jesus called him for a reason. He did not utter a word which would humiliate Zacchaeus. Jesus knew his heart's desire and dealt accordingly with him. All souls who earnestly seek Jesus shall be found of him. How wonderful his grace, that regardless of one's past life, Jesus will receive him as a friend and enter into fellowship with him! Zacchaeus quickly responded. He came down and with joy received Jesus.

IV. Zacchaeus' Conversion (vv. 7-10). His conversion was sudden and thorough. He was converted before he had reached the ground.

1. What the crowd said (v. 7). They said just what they say today when sinners come to Christ. They call to mind the man's former sins. They also reproached Christ, saying that he had gone to be a guest of this notorious extortioner, the tax collector. That for which they reproached Jesus was his glory. His supreme mission was to save sinners (v. 10).

2. What Zacchaeus said (v. 8). His conversion was thorough. It took hold upon his heart. His new life began with resolution and restitution. He dedicated half of his goods to the poor. The man who a little while ago was a grater was now a generous giver. His conversion got hold of his pocketbook. His determination to make restitution wherein he had wrongly exacted taxes shows the genuineness of his conversion. While God forgets the past of a sinner when he comes to Christ, the sinner who is converted will seek to right all wrongs, be they unkind words or unrighteous deeds. Sorrow for sin is not enough when restitution is possible.

3. What Jesus said (vv. 9, 10). "Today is salvation come to thy house." The publican was now a child of God, a son of Abraham. Salvation is a present reality when one receives Christ.

Profitable winter egg production is possible only in warm, clean houses plentifully supplied with litter, from hens fed well-balanced rations under lights properly used, say poultry authorities.

According to livestock specialists all signs point to a favorable year for feeding sheep at their present prices, on farms which have corn and good legume hay.

Use Chemicals To Clean Milk Cans

Chlorinated Lime Proves Effective in Killing Bacteria On Milk Utensils

Chemicals may be used instead of hot water in sterilizing milk utensils, and many farmers are finding this an easy method of keeping milk cans and other dairy equipment clean and sanitary, says L. H. Burgwald, professor of Dairy Technology at the Ohio State University.

Chlorinated lime, which may be procured in 12-ounce cans, is commonly used for this purpose. In preparing the chemical for use in sterilizing milk utensils, one 12-ounce can of chlorinated lime is thoroughly dissolved in a gallon of water, the clear solution is siphoned off, stored in a tightly stoppered glass bottle, and placed in a cool dark place. In the presence of sunlight the solution rapidly loses its strength.

After milking, Burgwald states, the utensils are immediately rinsed with cold water and then washed with hot water containing a washing powder (not a soap powder). After the milk utensils have been thoroughly washed with the hottest water possible to handle, they are then rinsed with a solution made by adding a half glass of the chlorine solution to five gallons of water.

The chemical is effective in killing bacteria if the milk cans are clean, but if they are dirty it will do but little good. Cans returned from the milk plants or creameries may be rinsed with the chlorinated lime solution and then drained just before milking time.

Measure Effect of Drought and Slump

Statistics Point to Gross Cash Income 15 Per Cent Lower For Last 12 Months

The effects of lower prices for farm products and the drought, on the Ohio farmer's income, have been measured statistically by V. R. Wertz, research professor of rural economics at the Ohio State University.

Wertz found that the farmer's gross cash income has been 15 per cent lower in the 12 months period ending September 30 than during a similar period ending that date a year ago.

This income also is less, by about the same amount, than for the five-year average of 1924-28.

Income from all major sources lowered uniformly, according to Wertz. Income from sale of hogs, cattle and sheep was less by 16 per cent, from dairy products and grains 15 per cent, from poultry and eggs 17 per cent, and from potatoes 12 per cent.

A decrease in the number of hogs sold and a general decline in livestock prices are the causes of the lowered income from livestock products, Wertz explains. Reduced incomes from dairy and poultry products were caused, in the main, by lower prices, although milk production in Ohio was 3 per cent less during this last 12 months period. Lowered income from the sale of grains was due also to lowered prices; wheat prices average 17 per cent lower, corn 3 per cent, and oats 4 per cent. The quantity of corn sold (last year's crop) increased 18 per cent, but the estimated amount of oats sold fell off 41 per cent.

The income from wool decreased 26 per cent, the greatest decrease of any major Ohio farm product. The Ohio farm price of wool in June was 28 cents, 11 cents less than for June a year ago. An increase of 24 per cent in tobacco production over the 1928 crop carried the income from this source only 4 per cent above its preceding 12 month average.

Slant Roof and Save on Repairs

Too Little Pitch Is Cause of Most Poultry House Repair Jobs

Gentle slopes may be all right in the corn field, but they are certainly out of place on the roof of the poultry house, according to H. P. Twitchell, extension specialist in agricultural engineering at the Ohio State University.

One reason, he says, why the roof of the poultry house requires mending or replacing quicker than any other type of farm building is that they are unusually flat, often having a pitch of but 1 inch to the foot. Such gentle slopes eliminate the use of such roofing materials as slate, shingles and ordinary metal roofings which are not suited to small pitches. As a result, composition roll roofing has been about the only material used. This type of roof is satisfactory for only one or two seasons.

The best method of repairing an old composition roof is to convert it into a built-up roof, Twitchell points out. This roof, which consists of several layers or thicknesses of roofing paper cemented down with hot roofing asphalt, often lasts for more than 15 years. The cost of converting an old composition roof into a built-up roof is less than that of laying a new roll roof. In laying the new roof, Twitchell says it is a good idea to first go over the old roof and be sure that it is perfectly smooth; old nails should be driven in, metal strips removed, and wrinkles levelled out.

After the old roof has been gone over, and made fast to the roofing boards, tar paper or roofing felt is laid. In laying the roofing felt, hot asphalt is mopped on a small area at a lower end of the roof where it is desired to start the roll. Then the roll of felt is placed in position on the freshly applied asphalt before it has time to harden. More asphalt is mopped on the surface and the felt unrolled as quickly as the asphalt is applied. Only a ribbon of asphalt as wide as the roll is spread over the roof surface. Each strip is laid half way over the preceding strip and the whole covered with a finishing coat of hot asphalt.

Entomologists anticipate little damage from Hessian fly to next year's wheat crop. Insects now seen in wheat fields are plant lice now migrating to their winter host, the apple tree, they say.

The palatability of this year's unusually poor hay may be improved by chopping it and mixing with it two quarts of molasses dissolved in a gallon of water.

Fertilizers Pay Well on Pastures

Good Returns in Meat and Milk Result From the Better Grazing

Cutting down feed bills with the help of improved permanent pastures that have been brought back to a high state of fertility through fall application of 20 per cent superphosphate and lime has proven a profitable practice on scores of farms throughout the state, according to D. R. Dodd, extension specialist in soils at Ohio State University.

Many pastures, he says, which formerly required 3 acres to support a cow now carry one animal throughout an entire pasture season of 175 days on one and a quarter acres. This increase was accomplished in most cases by applying two tons of lime per acre once in every 8 years and 400 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate per acre once in four years. The cost of such a treatment is $3 an acre a year.

Most unimproved permanent pastures in the state, Dodd declares, are hardly paying for the cost of fencing and taxes. Throughout the season sold cattle on the untreated pastures make a gain per acre equivalent to 100 pounds of meat. On the improved pastures the gain per acre amounts to 225 pounds, a 125-pound increase in favor of fertilization, which will bring an average price of 8 cents. This means that $10 more will be received per acre from the improved pasture than from the unimproved. As the cost of lime and fertilizer is $3 per acre, a profit of $7 an acre can be obtained through the use of lime and superphosphate.

On fertile pastures under intensive grazing conditions, it will often pay to lime at the rate of about two tons to the acre and to apply 150 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate each year, 40 pounds of muriate of potash, and 250 pounds of sulphate of ammonia. This treatment, which is not generally recommended, costs about $10 per acre, points out Dodd. It will return $20 worth of additional meat, making a profit of $10 each year it is grazed. When this pasture is used for milk production the profit per acre will be noticeably higher.
